Shodhyatra is a walk in rural/urban areas organised twice every year to promote grassroots creativity

The aims are to discover creative farmers, mechanics, women, children, innovators etc., who have done some innovative & to compile and disseminate traditional knowledge, which is fast disappearing by establishing a dialogue between the old generation and young generation

If YOU are an innovator and have developed or improved any existing machine, any crop variety, any herbal formulation for agricultural, veterinary or human use, or even if you have any original creative technology idea about machines, devices etc you may like to meet us on any of the following dates at the specified places
